Village Offered New Light and Power Contract

Would Save $296 Yearly, Estimate; Would Supercede Old One

A new contract between the village of Antioch and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, whereby an estimated saving to the village of $296 per year would be effected, was presented by George W. Joedicks, district superintendent of the company, at an adjourned meeting of the village council Tuesday evening.

For the greater part of this saving would be effected in the street lighting, since the village's principal use of power is for the pumping station and amounts to only about $37 in the course of a year.

The new contract will supersede the one now in force, which still has a year to go before its expiration, and would cover a five-year period.

Ask For Vacating Ordinance
The meeting was called primarily for consultation with Village Attorney George S. McGaughey as to the feasibility of vacating 20 feet of the 80-foot span allotted from Orchard street southerly through the village park.

This would save the little strip of park area to the west of the present roadway, which is at present enjoyed by many persons living near, as well as by visitors, the councilmen observed, and would still allow a street area comparing favorably in its span with that of Main street, which is 54 feet wide from curb to curb, according to Street Commissioner James Stearns.

On motion of the council members, Attorney McGaughey was instructed to draw up an ordinance for this purpose.

Copies of zoning and water-and-sewerage ordinances adopted in communities similar in size and character to Antioch were submitted to the council by McGaughey for further study, with a view to possible future adoption of like ordinances here.

Contemplate Lighting Improvements
It was also recommended that copies of blueprints made in past years with a view to improving the village lighting system, particularly in the business district, be procured for renewed consideration.

Reservations have been made for the council members who plan to attend the Illinois Municipal League convention in Peoria on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and 2, it was announced.

Councilman Walter I. Scott presided as president pro tem in the absence of Village President George B. Bartlett.

Antioch township's bond sales for September totaled $12,958, according to a report made by James F. Stiles, Jr., Lake county war bond chairman. Helping to make up Lake county's $95.3 percentage on its total quota for the month were Lake Villa's $5,418; Grant township's $4,987, and Grayslake's $3,581.

Sales of E, F and G bonds in the county amounted to $788,668 for September.

News of the Boys in Service

Pvt. Henry Furlan has been transferred from Ft. Still, Okla., to Camp Gruber, Okla.

Two servicemen who have returned from service overseas were recent callers at the home of Mrs. Mary Dalziel, Lake Villa.

Roland Dalziel, a cousin, who was stationed in India, was a visitor several days ago. Roland brought back interesting articles and souvenirs from overseas.

Pfc. Paul E. Savage, who had been in France, was the other visitor.

Both reported that it was distinctly a pleasure to be back in this country.

A hand-sewn Japanese flag was sent home recently by Lt. Charles W. Hawkins of the Marine corps, now serving in the Pacific area.

Capt. Wallace E. McIntyre is still at Camp Haan, Calif., but has been transferred to another battalion.

Robert E. Gaston, AMM 3/c, care of Fleet post office, San Francisco, writes:

"It's really nice here. The weather is perfect and the station is clean, and as good as any I have been on."

"We have some night school classes in math here. Maybe I'll join one. It would do me a lot of good; I know."

"Say hello to everyone for me."

The Army Specialized Training Reserve program, available to enlistees in the Air Corps Enlisted reserve and the Enlisted Reserve corps, unassigned, will be suspended January 1, 1945 unless new funds are appropriated.

Capt. John H. Patterson, president of the Chicago Army Air Force examining Board, announced today.

The suspension, however, will not affect any other enlisted reserve program authorized at that time, Capt. Patterson explained.

Under a War department directive applicants for ASTRP, even though they have met the requirements of age, graduation from high school, and have attained a passing score in the Army Air forces mental test, will not be considered eligible for ASTRP unless they are available for assignment to college by March 1, 1945.

Pfc. Howard W. Alwardt was slightly wounded in action in France, Sept. 24, according to a telegram received from the War department by his mother, Mrs. Mabel Alwardt, of Lake Villa. Pfc. Alwardt has been overseas since a year ago last April.

Huge Barn on Edwards Place Is Burned Down

Spectacular Fire Destroys 50-yr.-old Landmark on Hy. 173 Near 45

In a spectacular blaze fed by 27 tons of baled hay, 1,000 bushels of oats and other inflammable material, with exploding barrels of gasoline sending bursts of flame high into the air, the huge barn on the Warren Edwards place, for more than 50 years a landmark on Highway 173 a short distance east of U. S. Highway 45, was totally destroyed last night.

The loss was estimated by Fire Chief L. R. Van Patten as about $1,500 for the barn, which is believed to have been covered by insurance, and $2,500 for the contents, said to be uninsured.

While little of the other contents could be saved, no livestock was lost. Eight milch cows in the barn at the time of the fire was first discovered, around 7 o'clock, were rescued by members of the Edwards family, who had just finished supper and were about to start milking.

Drawn by the glow of the flames against the sky and the sound of the village siren when the alarm was turned in to the Antioch fire department by Mrs. Edwards, hundreds of spectators sped to the scene.

Automobiles were parked along the highway for more than half a mile in either direction, as well as along cross roads nearby.

Try to Battle Flames

The origin of the fire was variously attributed to the backfiring of an engine and to the ignition of gasoline fumes by a lantern.

An attempt to fight it was made by Maurice Edwards, 15, who was first to observe it. He was joined by others of the family, but it spread so rapidly that some quick work was required to remove the livestock and chickens.

The roof was already ablaze by the time the firemen arrived, and they confined their efforts to protecting the house. In this they were aided by a southwest wind that blew the flames and sparks in the opposite direction.

When the direction of the wind changed around 9 o'clock, Antioch Engine No. 1, which had by that time returned to the village, was called back to the farm.

Tank Kept at Farm

Antioch's tank company had remained at the farm, and both remained there until 10 p. m., when it was judged that immediate danger to the house was past.

The contents of the barn, in addition to the hay and oats, included 12 tons of baled straw, 400 bushels of wheat, as well as tools and machinery stored there and in the lean-to horse barn and shed adjoining the main structure.

Also in the shed were 20 gallons of kerosene, the barrels of gasoline, a barrel of motor oil and two tons of coal. Twelve feet of slage in a 14-foot silo were lost.

The fire continued to burn through the night, and was still smoldering today.

The Edwards family were able to move their livestock to the William Horton place nearby, where an auction held last Saturday had left barn room available.

Built in Early '90's
Built in 1891 or 1892 for William Mann, who then occupied the place, by Silver Brothers of Russell, master carpenters of that time, the barn had heavy solid oak beams that remained in place towering above the two story incandescent mass of glowing baled hay, long after the roof and the boards of the side walls had burned away.

The farm was originally known as the "old Crawford place," and was first settled by Samuel Crawford well over 75 years ago.

The house, which is of older construction than the barn, was already on the place when it was taken over by William Mann.

The place afterward passed through the ownership of a number of persons, and was then taken over by George Thompson of Zion.

During the past four years it had been operated by the Warren Edwards family for its owners, who include Arthur Wertz of Mundelein.

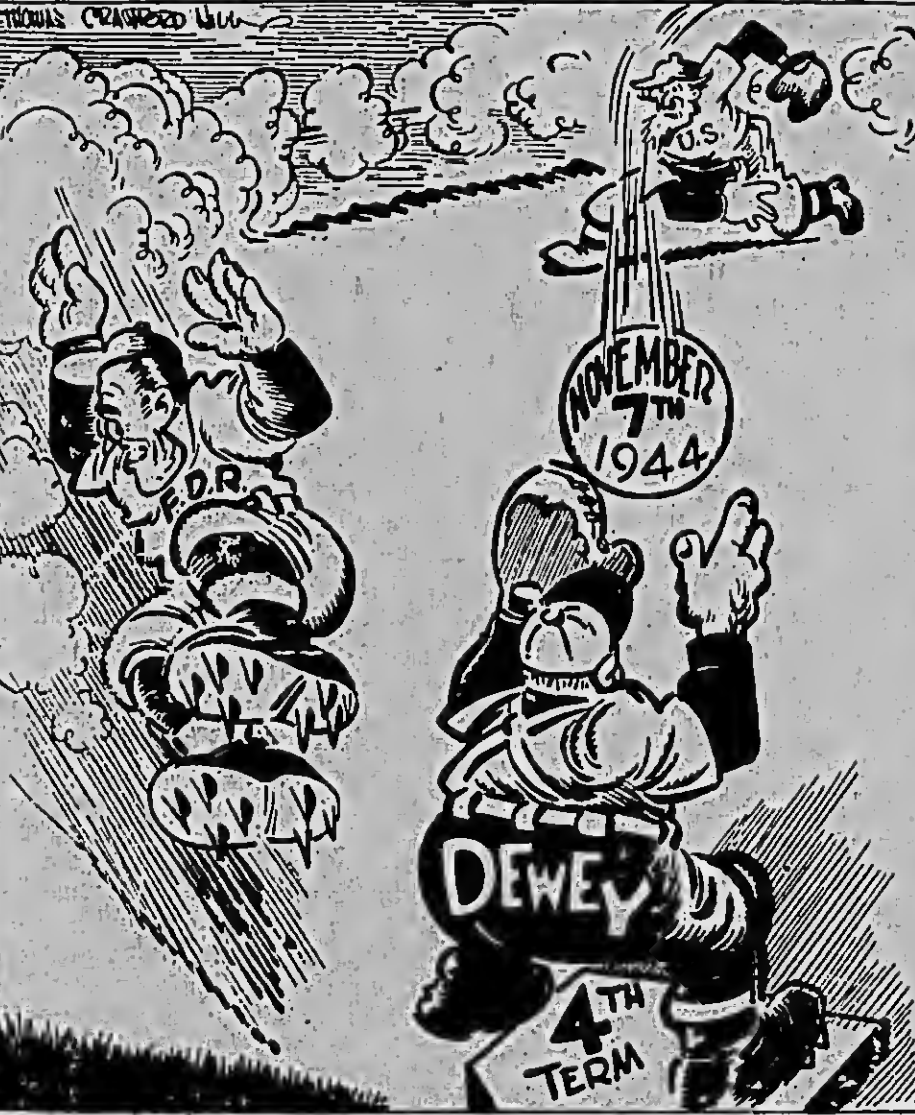

In Unprotected Area

The farm is in Newport township, outside the jurisdiction of the Antioch department, and is in an area that has no fire protection.

The Antioch department has, however, responded to the calls from this area, as well as other nearby regions.

This morning at 11 o'clock, the Antioch department received a call to the F. W. Felsch place on the northwest side of Bluff lake, where an outer wall of a small tool house was slightly damaged by a fire apparently having its start in leaves on the ground.

He Made Third, But He'll Never Steal Home

Home Folks' Aid Cheers Fighters, Says U. S. Marine

The "home folks" do not fully appreciate the importance of their contributions to the war effort, Sgt. John Silvis, U. S. Marine corps, Great Lakes, told workers who served in Antioch township's Fifth War Loan campaign when they were presented certificates at a program in Antioch Township High school last Thursday evening.

Without the backing of the workers in factories and industry in general, without the efforts of the farmers and the support given by purchasers of war bonds, the endeavors of the armed forces would not be meeting with the success that now attends them, Sgt. Silvis said.

When the men on the battle front read of the war bond campaigns that have gone "over the top," it is a genuine inspiration to them, declared the speaker, who recently returned from service in the southwest Pacific area.

Silvis Asks Further Aid
James F. Stiles, Jr., chairman of the Lake county bond committee, also gave a short talk, and asked for generous support from Antioch township for the Sixth War Loan drive.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Betty Faassen Sanford of Zion, who was accompanied by her father, Fred Faassen.

Otto S. Klass, township bond drive chairman, introduced the speakers.

Light refreshments were served following the program.

Those receiving the certificates included the following:

Mrs. Mary Chase, Ethel Zimmerman, Lillian Quilty, Sibyl Steiskal, Eleanor Michell, John Yopp, Lester Nelson, John Horan, Hans von Holwede, Lillian Hand, C. L. Heath, Eric Westhall, Arthur McGreal, Walter Hills, Edith Elms.

Miss Charlene Jorgensen.

Messrs. Peter Toft, Henry Rentner, Henry Pape, George Wagner, T. R. Birkhead, Joseph Rymer, Arthur Rosenfeldt, John Horan.

A number of those who were entitled to the citations were unable to be present, Chairman Klass stated. They may, however, call for them at the Otto Klass store.

War Fund Response Is Lagging, Says Chairman

Contributions to Antioch township's quota for the National War fund are not coming in as rapidly as might be desired, William A. Rosling, chairman, reports.

The township's quota this fall is $2,500, of which only a small portion has been raised, he states.

Individual donations may be made by check or money order, mailed to Chairman Rosling at the Antioch garage, as well as by cash.

Sixth War Loan Drive Scheduled to Start Nov. 20

Sgt. J. Silvis, Great Lakes, Speaks at Presentation of Bond Drive Awards

"The Sixth War Loan drive will be launched Nov. 20 and extend through Dec. 16. Fourteen billion dollars is the total quota, with five billion to be raised from individuals," writes S. George Little, special newspaper consultant, war finance division of the U. S. treasury.

"With the accumulated successes of our military operations, the people seem to have become more complacent, feeling that a relaxation in our financing efforts will not prove harmful. This is a most dangerous attitude as the sale of war bonds is more important now than ever before."

"We will have a tougher job in the coming Sixth drive, in reaching our quota, than we have had in any of the previous ones. Selling sponsored advertising will no doubt be more difficult, and we want to give you all the help we possibly can."

"A large volume of sponsored newspaper advertising will be absolutely essential to the success of this gigantic and crucial effort. Newspapers supported the Fifth drive with $10,000,000 worth of advertising, and while that far exceeded all previous records, we're going to need even more this time."

"Please express the appreciation of the Treasury to your local business organizations who have co-operated so unselfishly with this program and ask that they again back up our boys at the front, by helping put the Sixth War loan over the top. The nation needs your help in the coming Sixth drive than ever before. American dollars must be spent in appalling sums to finance our all out military efforts. Next to our military operations the War Bond program is the most vital part of our war effort. It is our NUMBER ONE obligation here at home."

Chicago Hunter Dies of Heart Attack at Lake

Collapses After Firing at Duck on Opening Day of Season, Saturday

Good bags of ducks and mudhens, few accidents and a negligible number of game law violations, marked the opening of the duck hunting season in the Antioch territory Saturday morning.

The usual opening bombardment sounded off at Grass Lake half an hour before sunrise, with a fairly constant fusillade of shots throughout the day.

Many resort owners got their first sleep late Sunday evening, after having been busy since Friday morning attending to the needs and wants of eager nimrods who sought boats, meals and beds. Regular dining room hours were "off" at many places, with furnished men being served their "eats" at all hours of the day and night.

The general excitement of the day was marred by one indirect fatality, the death of William F. Jahn, 58, a retired Chicago fire department lieutenant, who toppled across the side of his boat after shooting a bird that settled on the water nearby.

Jahn was dragged back into the boat by his companion, Stanley A. Seliga, a member of Chicago Fire Company No. 82, who brought him to shore at the Pregrener resort. A call was put in for the Antioch Rescue squad and for Dr. Irving L. Breakstone.

Jahn was believed to have died immediately, however.

The body was removed to the Strang Funeral home, where a coroner's inquest was conducted by Garfield R. Leaf, at 1 p. m. Monday.

Jahn had complained of heart pains a short time before he collapsed, Seliga stated. The call for the Rescue squad was put in at 7:45 a. m.

Frank Raux, 30, Chicago, who was struck in the leg by stray pellets and Edward S. Auer, also of Chicago, who had an eye injured by a birdshot, were the only victims of gun wounds reported.

Only one arrest for game law violations was announced, by Justice of the Peace Joseph C. James. Justice H. J. Brogan had no cases on the opening day.

Children's Halloween Party Is Subject of Plans Now Under Way

Plans are now well organized for the annual Halloween party for children of the community, featuring a costume parade, with prizes, a treat and a theater party.

According to present arrangements, prizes are to be furnished by the Lions club, the treat will be supplied through the courtesy of the village board, and Fred B. Swanson will follow his annual custom of extending the hospitality of the Antioch theater for the judging of costumes and the theater party.

Richard Whitacre, principal of the Grade school, is general chairman for the celebration, which customarily opens with a parade from the school up Main street to the theater.

Nielsen's Taken Over by Joe, Helen Sterbenz

Joe and Helen Sterbenz, who have been in partnership with Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Nielsen at the Nielsen Barbecue and Service station during the past summer, have taken over the business, it was announced this week.

Louis and Rose have made Nielsen's Corners a well known landmark during the 14 years in which they have dispensed hospitality, service and information to visitors in the lakes region. They now plan to enjoy a well earned rest during the coming months.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sterbenz have been associated with them for more than 10 years, and they plan to continue the management of the place along the same lines that have brought many visitors back to it from year to year in the past.

For Home Towns They Fight

A picture comes from overseas of some of our doughty air-borne troops and their glider, from which they dropped to assault the "impregnable" Siegfried Line.

On the side of the glider they painted: "Look, Hurmin! No Motor!"—the disrespectfully misspelled individual addressed being, of course, Der Fuehrer's Field Marshal Patsy (Hermann) Goering, of the once-dread Luftwaffe.

Beneath that lighthearted but confident jape the U. S. troopers also painted the names of their home towns: "Detroit, Cleveland, Wash., D. C."

It gave us a smile—and a sense of what these young Americans are fighting and dying for: their home towns, U. S. A., and the plain people who compose them. Not for them, on the sky transport which took them to battle, were frothy slogans deifying a dictator and his totalitarian ideology; no fantastic worshipfulness of a Fuehrer.

They inscribed a jibe at the whole dictator philosophy—and the names of their home towns, U. S. A., the towns they love and want to get back to. May their home towns be as devoted to these hardy fighters as our men are to them!

Your Gift Girdles the Globe

We all know this is a global war. But few of us realize that our own personal part is global—that the generosity of every community—township or metropolitan city—goes straight out to the ends of the earth.

We have just looked at a record which shows that your gift to your local War Fund is now at work on six continents and in 91 countries and geographic areas, including our own. It has crossed embattled seas, sifted through closed borders, and penetrated barbed wire entanglements to be put to work by the twenty-two member agencies of the National War Fund.

In the jungles of the Pacific and behind the lines in Europe, for instance, our own armed forces are getting a lift and a laugh when USO Camp Shows units go ashore soon after the troops establish beachheads.

In Cherbourg, merchant seamen suffering from nervous tension, more popularly known as "convoy fatigue" may get rest and replacements for their lost clothing at a United Seamen's Service center.

In Germany, American and Allied prisoners of war are provided by War Prisoners Aid with recreational, educational and religious materials to keep up their morale against the enervating effects to confinement in war-prisoner camps. Textbooks sent them are used in self-organized classes, which they call their "University of captivity." From theatrical kits they've received and from materials found in the camps, they construct props for such camp productions as "Hamlet" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

In Britain, robot-bombed inhabitants have been provided with clothing—and with even such essentials of household equipment as stoves and cooking utensils, by the British War Relief Society.

Two-thirds of the supplies sent to the Soviet by Russian War Relief were used in military hospitals there, thus contributing to Russia's record of returning 73 out of every 100 military casualties to frontline action.

In Mauritius, Czechoslovak refugees who managed to get out of their country and escape the fate of those in the village of Lidice, have found a haven of safety and have been sent aid by United Czechoslovak Relief.

In Ecuador, refugees who were rescued from Hitler's hangmen are given the opportunity to regain their health and to rehabilitate themselves by Refugee Relief Trustees.

And so it goes around the globe . . . wherever there is a need that can be reached and relieved, YOU, through one of the National War Fund agencies, are extending a helping hand.

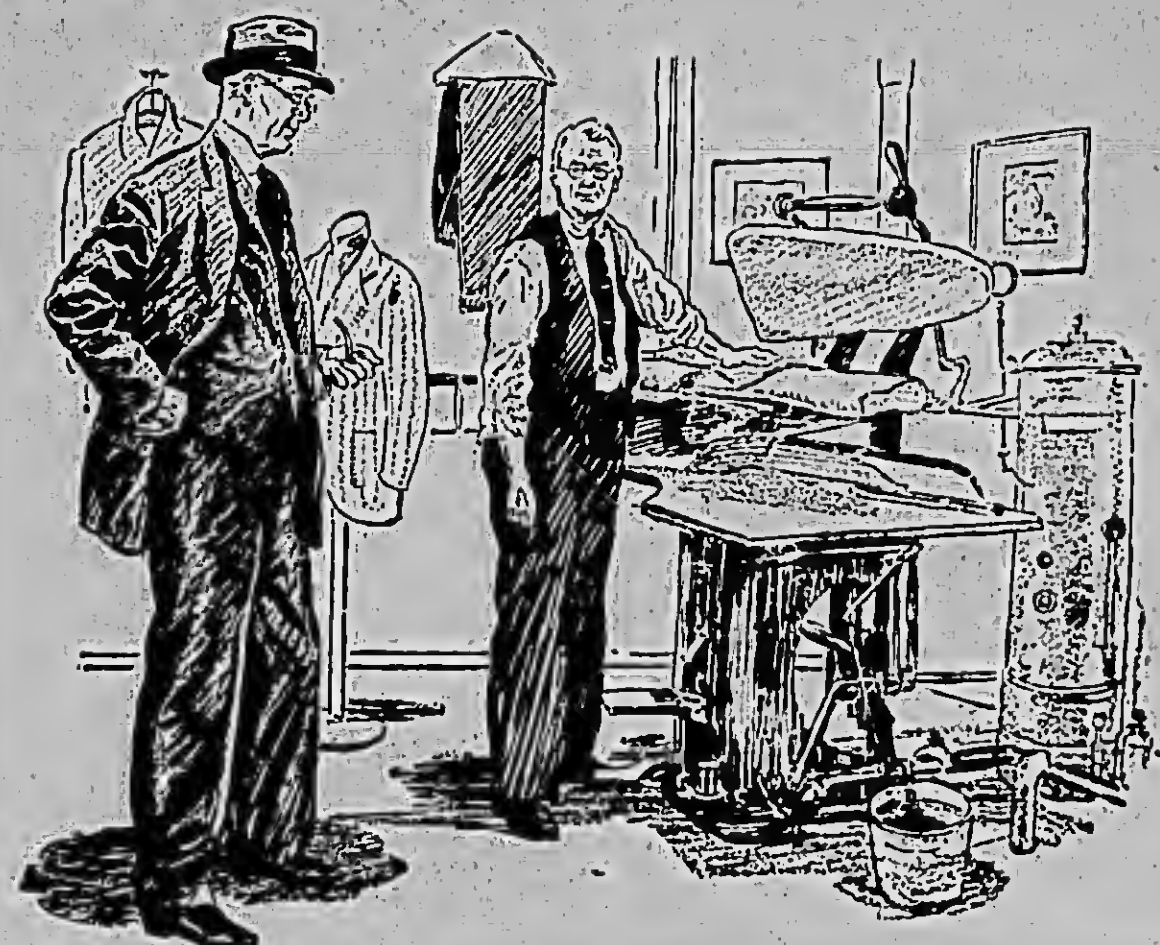

At home, too—that place where you hang your hat and keep your heart—your gift has helped cope with problems that were tough enough in peacetime. Now that we are at war, they have become doubly difficult.

Men on the battlefronts will find that the things they have fought to preserve all over the world have not been neglected right here at home.

Your generosity has, in one contribution synchronized through the National War Fund, struck with the forces of good against the power of evil, wherever it may be.

Give generously. Give now!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war stories I like best, Judge, are the ones by the special writers overseas who live right with our troops. They give us a better idea of how our men react to things going on over there and back here at home."

"I agree with you, Sam. I never miss one of those stories in the papers or magazines. And there's one thing those writers seem to agree on no matter where they are stationed with our men . . . and that is that the men who have left their homes and families to go away and fight this war don't want to come back and find that prohibition has been put over on them while they were away . . . either nationally or locally. They have heard about the attempts being made and they resent it bitterly."

"I agree with them, Judge, even though I don't happen to drink myself. Furthermore, I don't think it's fair for us at home to be making any major changes while 10,000,000 of our fighting men are away and have no chance to express their opinions."

Republican Victory Will Speed Defeat of Axis, Dewey Declares

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, in two major speeches last week continued to describe the bright future for America which he pledges the people of the nation.

In a nationwide radio address at a Republican rally in the Municipal Auditorium, Charleston, West Virginia, on October 7th, Governor Dewey charged that the New Deal Administration was setting up a corporate state, "a system where government would tell each of us where we could work, at what and for how much." This New Deal aim, the Republican candidate said, is one reason for Communist support of the Fourth Term Drive.

Earlier in the week, Governor Dewey, speaking to the nation by radio from the Executive Mansion in Albany, called for immediate postwar reduction in taxes and revision of the entire taxation system.

Highlights from the address, at Charleston, follow:

"If every American who believes in freedom for his country will register and vote, free America will win an overwhelming victory here at home on November 7th. . . . This victory at the polls will also serve to speed the defeat of Germany and Japan because it will bring an end to bungling, fumbling and incompetence in Washington."

"My opponent softly denies that he welcomes the support of any person or group committed to communism, or fascism."

But doesn't this soft disclaimer come a trifle late? Earl Browder, the head of the Communist Party in America, proclaimed that the election of my opponent was essential to his aims. This is the same Earl Browder who was convicted as a draft dodger in the last war, convicted again as a perjurer and pardoned by Franklin Roosevelt in time to organize the campaign for his fourth term.

"The aims of the New Dealers were stated . . . by Adolph Berle. . . . He said: 'Over a period of years, the government will gradually come to own most of the productive plants in the United States.'"

"That means, of course, a system where government would tell each of us where we could work, at what and for how much. . . . I do not know whether my opponent calls that system Communism or National Socialism or Fascism. I do know it is not an American system and it's not a free system. The New Deal is developing its own form of corporate state."

"It becomes clear why the twice convicted Comrade Browder, and his friends are so eager for the reelection of my opponent. Their aims can best be served by unemployment and discontent. They remember that the New Deal in all its seven peacetime years never cured unemployment. They remember that in the spring of 1940 we still had ten million unemployed. They remember that under the New Deal we had to have a war to get jobs. That's why they want a fourth term."

"Let's look at the way this tired administration bungled its way into conversion for war production. . . . In August, 1939, more than six years after Hitler came to power, Mr.

Roosevelt finally created a War Resources Board. . . . It worked for three months and brought in a report. But the report was buried and the board quietly died. . . . In response to public pressure on May 25th, 1940, Mr. Roosevelt . . . created the Office for Emergency Management under Executive Order No. 8,240. . . . But just four days later he piled on top of this one a seven man advisory commission."

"Next we were handed the prize monstrosity of all, the Office of Production Management, under two different heads, William Knudsen and Sidney Hillman. . . . that agency was a failure."

So Mr. Roosevelt piled on still another one, the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board. . . . And of course that failed too. It was not until five weeks after Pearl Harbor that . . . at last we got a War Production Board with a single responsible administrator at the head."

"By way of coordinating all this confusion . . . my opponent created a sixth agency, the Office of War Mobilization. . . . Eighteen months after Pearl Harbor. . . . The inevitable happened again. A little over a month ago, the War Production Board, itself, fell apart."

"During all these months that the war effort was being hampered by open warfare in Washington, the responsible head of our Government was doing nothing about it. . . . Mr. Roosevelt's only comment was that he had of course been aware of dissension but he had hoped it would disappear."

"His administration is too tired even to do the job at hand. It is obviously too tired for the job ahead. That's why it's time for a change."

"What has been the answer of the New Deal to the specific proposals of our platform and the detailed statements of policy I have made on the radio in these recent weeks? We have heard nothing but glittering generalities, ghosts of the dead past and wise-cracks. . . . The New Deal wants a Government-owned America."

"I say there is a better way. . . . Ten million returning heroes will demand that better way under the freedom they have fought to win. Under divine guidance they will have here a land of security with freedom and opportunity for all."

"The six point tax program as proposed by Governor Dewey at Albany, October 3rd, follows:

- 1) Revise the personal exemptions so that the man who makes as little as $11 a week no longer has an income tax taken out of his pay envelope.
- 2) Reduce personal income tax rates.
- 3) Change and lower the income tax on incorporated business companies until it no longer acts as a drag upon production and a barrier to jobs.
- 4) Eliminate as soon as possible all excise taxes except those on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and gasoline.
- 5) Completely overhaul our existing, confused and complicated tax laws. We must create a basic tax law which can be expected to remain simple and generally stable.
- 6) Establish and proclaim a consistent, national tax policy—one directed toward achieving full employment and a rising national income—one that will assure us of a solvent nation and the ultimate reduction of our national debt.

Woods Worker's Life
Improved communications have radically altered the woods worker's way of life. He is now seldom confined by circumstances to an isolated camp near adjacent timber operations, although some workers still prefer to live in camps. These are no longer primitive, but provide excellent food and accommodations. Many woods workers maintain their own homes in villages and towns in forested areas.

New Deal Has Destroyed Democratic Party, Gov. John Bricker Declares

Governor John W. Bricker, Republican vice-presidential nominee, delivered vigorous indictment of the New Deal Administration as he carried his speech-and-campaign tour west of the Mississippi.

Speaking in St. Louis, on October 4th, over a nationwide network, Governor Bricker accused the New Deal of dividing the people of the nation in order to hold its power.

"It has set class against class," he said. "It has played minority groups for their political support. It has attacked not only the actions, but the motives of all who dared to oppose it. Never before have we had the bitterness, engendered by selfish political interests, that we have experienced in this administration."

Governor Bricker condemned the New Deal for "its vicious and persistent attacks upon business," and for using its extraordinary wartime power "to suppress the rights of the American People and to subordinate them to constant bureaucratic domination."

"I do not condemn the Administration for its legitimate efforts on behalf of the workers of this country," Governor Bricker continued. "But I do condemn the New Deal for its favoritism among labor groups, for playing one against another for political purposes, for bad administration of labor laws and for political adjudication of disputes between labor and management. Such tactics have resulted in strife and strikes, they have actually lessened war production."

Charging that the New Deal "is leading this nation away from American principles of government," Governor Bricker said that the Roosevelt Administration had destroyed the traditional Democratic party.

"Instead the reins of power have been turned over to such White House agents as Hopkins, Frankfurter, Rosenman, Pepper, Ickes, Kelly, Hague and the temporarily inactive Pendergast," he said. "They know little of the real life of America and they care less. They want power and jobs. Patronage is their meat and drink. Power is their passion. The American people are their victims."

"But there is now a more dangerous influence than these. As the New Deal took over the Democratic party—so now the Communists and the radicals have taken over the New Deal. The New Deal Convention in Chicago raised to the pedestal of power a man whose ideas of government are alien to the Constitution and free representative government. His name is Sidney Hillman."

You forgotten Men and Women—there are Twenty Million of you—who are not provided for under the present social security act.

Farmers, farm-hands, domestic help of all kinds, those who work for non-profit organizations, self-employed persons, and many others are discriminated against. They are entitled to protection in their old age, the same as factory, mill and other workers.

Read below what Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for president on the Republican ticket, promised you in his speech before 95,000 persons at Los Angeles, Calif., on Sept. 23, 1944:

"The Republican party, if placed in power will widen and extend the employment insurance act to include the groups that are now unprotected. There are 20,000,000 men and women workers who are now unprovided for — farmers, farm-hands, domestics of all kinds, self-employed persons and many others. They are all entitled to old age and survivors' insurance and I promise to lead my efforts to the task of providing for them."

Vote the Straight Republican Ticket

Every candidate on the Republican ticket, including your county officials, are truly American. They are opposed to Hillmanism, Browderism, Communism and every other "ism" that has been hatched up and coddled by the New Deal Democratic party.

The American Way of Life is the Best Way

and to throw off the shackles of bureaucracy and impending dictatorship, every voter should march under the banner of the Republican party.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Services Performed by Travelers' Aid Described for Club

Children who decide to take a ride on a train and arrive, bewildered, in Chicago; people who lose their purses or wallets; bewildered old people; servicemen and their relatives—these are some of the persons who have been helped by the Travelers' Aid society in Chicago. Alice Donohue, extension secretary, told the Antioch Woman's club at a meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Melvin M. Stilson.

Miss Donohue spoke in the place of Mrs. D. Wendell Pentress of Barrington, a member of the Woman's board of the society in Chicago, who was unable to be present.

The Travelers' Aid society is responsible for U. S. O. lounges in railroad stations, she related, and sees to it that weary servicemen who are taking a nap are awakened in time to catch their trains.

"Cupid's assistant," is another role played by the society, which has helped many servicemen and their brides-to-be in making arrangements for their wedding during an all-too-brief furlough.

Miss Donohue drew smiles from her audience with her anecdote of an earnest young runaway who approached and asked, "Is this the place you come to when you find out you've made a mistake?"

The Travelers' Aid performs an average of 7,500 different services during a day, she said, with a total of 3 million during the past year.

Mrs. A. H. Kaufman, war service chairman, introduced the speaker and gave a brief talk on the Woman's club contributions to war service, including Christmas boxes and aid given to the "Green Thumb" Victory garden contest.

Mrs. Edna H. Cleveland of the Waukegan Woman's club, institute chairman of the Tenth District federation, spoke on "Club Ethics." She was introduced by Mrs. A. F. Mathisen.

Thirty-two were present at the meeting. Mrs. Joseph Horton was chairman of the hostess committee, which included Mrs. Stilson and Mrs. Sidney Kaiser.

A rehearsal was held by the club chorus in the Antioch Grade school after the meeting.

Post Nuptial Shower Held at Oakland School Honors Sergeant, Bride

Sgt. Russell W. Stern and his bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Hughes, whose marriage Oct. 5 in Waukegan was announced last week by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hughes, were honored at a post nuptial miscellaneous shower at Oakland school last Wednesday evening.

The school was beautifully decorated with red, white and blue streamers, centering around a large umbrella under which the couple received their gifts from the 135 relatives and friends present.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Tenth District Delegates

Delegates to the Tenth District American Legion auxiliary who were elected at a meeting of Antioch unit Friday evening in the Legion hall are Misses Clare Horton, Maud Johnson, Agnes Little, Rose Kennedy and Eva Burnette; alternates are Velma Langosch, Mildred Horan, Ollie Tweed, Sadie Keeney and Miss Charlene Jorgensen.

Mrs. Eva Burnette, rehabilitation chairman, gave a report on the five-point program that must be carried out by each auxiliary unit this year before it can be considered "100 percent."

She stated that, to date, there have been the following accomplishments:

1. National rehabilitation assessment - 10 cents assessed for each paid-up member as of the past year.
2. Craft shop - $1.00 donated.
3. Treasurer's chest and Canteen fund - $10.00 donated to Treasurer's chest and $36.00 to Canteen fund.
4. Insulin fund - $5.00 donated.
5. Dwight Gift shop at Dwight, Ill. $3.00 donated.

A social meeting will be held by the auxiliary Thursday evening, Oct. 26, in the home of Mrs. John L. Horan.

On Friday evening, Oct. 27, Mrs. Lillian Hand, president, Mrs. Horan and Mrs. Anne Heath will attend a meeting of the Tenth District board of directors in the home of Mrs. Kate Schalek, North Chicago, who is district director.

RAINBOW GIRLS TO OBSERVE SECOND ANNIVERSARY MONDAY

Masons and Eastern Star members are being invited to attend the pot luck dinner with which the Antioch Rainbow Girls chapter will celebrate its second anniversary, Monday, Oct. 23, at 6:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple. A meeting will follow.

Mrs. Ida Osmond and Mrs. Elmer Hunter entertained the O. E. S. Officers club at the Osmond home on Orchard street, Tuesday evening. Bridge and pinocle were played following the business meeting. Lunch was served later in the evening.

Remove Rust

Rust or corrosion on metal should be removed right down to the bright metal before repainting if further corrosion is to be insured against. Use of sandpaper, steel wool, or a scraper, when necessary, are helpful aids in preparing the metal surface for painting. At the same time, every vestige of grease or dirt should be removed from the entire surface to be painted in order that the fresh paint may adhere properly.

The Observer

The largest southward flight of ducks and geese that Illinois has known in the last thirty years is expected this fall, on the basis of surveys made by the state department of conservation, and by international conservation clubs. This prospect has brought about a ten-day lengthening of the shooting season. The open season, which began Oct. 14, will run through Jan. 1.

Some easing of the tight ammunition situation is reported, but it is now clear that the supply will not equal the demand. Hunters who have saved shells from previous years are congratulating themselves on their foresight.

During the period from 1938 to 1942, about three and one-third per cent of the wild ducks migrating through the Illinois River valley were killed by hunters, according to a study made by the state natural history survey. This finding is based on a count of mallards, black ducks and pintails which had been banded. After making allowances for the fact that the banding was done later in some seasons than in others, it is estimated that hunters killed between three and five per cent of the annual flight of ducks.

Mallards and black ducks were found to be warier and harder to shoot than most other species of ducks.

Speedy Help to Lamed Cruiser

Warship Snaps Vital Part; Gets Replacement in Record Time.

PHILADELPHIA.—An American cruiser steaming to take its place in a Pacific battle line snapped a vital 6,100-pound pinion gear.

The nearest replacement part was 5,300 miles away, in the Philadelphia navy yard.

But within three days the new gear was installed and the ship under way.

Between the radioed call for a replacement and its arrival is the story of the naval air transport service (NATS). Paul Bunyon of the navy, whose unsung pilots carry five-ton replacements and V mail, plasma and plane fuselages, sulfur and surgical instruments over a 70,000-mile air supply line.

The cruiser's pinion gear was sent from the Willow Grove, Pa., naval air station, which handies up to a quarter million pounds of NATS freight monthly. The gear weighed twice the normal carrying load of the twin engine R4D transport which carried it, but the fuel load was cut and the number of refueling stops increased to meet the emergency.

Makes Record Flight.

In June NATS flew the two heaviest single items ever transported by air from New York to the Panama Canal Zone to replace damaged rotors in a tanker carrying fuel oil to task force 58.

Lieut. Harold M. Schaumbach, Camp Hill, Pa., and Lieut. James M. Malloy, Wilmington, Del., manned the Douglas four-engine Skyraider cargo plane which made the flight in less than 18 hours.

The tanker's trial runs uncovered additional engine trouble and a week later NATS flew another turbine rotor to the tanker. Within nine hours after landing at Allbrook field in the Canal Zone, the transport was returning with the damaged rotor, en route to the Philadelphia navy yard for repairs.

The entire 5,000-mile trip was completed in 27 hours.

From seven planes rounded up during the Pearl Harbor emergency, NATS has grown to 10 squadrons of Douglas transports and seaplanes such as the 70-ton Mars, the Martin Mariner, and the Consolidated Coronado.

Bring Wounded Home. Flat metal seats line the sides of some of the transports, providing emergency passenger service for wounded men and women with broken bones. Some have unseated high-ranking officers.

Seven scheduled flights pass through Willow Grove daily. Before the engines are cut off, the transport pilot, Lieut. Ben S. Spaulding, Chicago, and his assistant, Lieut. E. Kemper, Alexandria, Va., are supervising the loading crew of 22 enlisted men.

A gauge is used to determine whether the loading makes the transport nose or tail heavy, and as soon as a balance is reached the plane takes off for the next field, leaving a perspiring officer to compute the amount of fuel it will burn en route and message the estimated landing weight.

Flying without parachutes because of its safety record, NATS has brought thousands of passengers to Willow Grove—including blinded marines and wounded fighters bound for the artificial limb center at the Philadelphia Naval hospital.

Fine Autumn Weather Aids Wisconsin Crops

The favorable weather during the past month aided materially in increasing the production of the late crops harvested in Wisconsin as well as throughout the nation, according to the Crop Reporting Service of the Wisconsin and United States Departments of Agriculture. Total production of Wisconsin crops will be about as large as last year.

Wisconsin had good rainfall during late August and most of September, and the weather was generally favorable to the late crops. The frost has held off later than usual in this state. Vegetation had a little longer season than in the last two years. This was important because of the late planting of some crops, and time was also needed for a recovery from the effects of drought in early August.

Fall pastures are much better than a month or so ago. At the beginning of October crop reporters indicated that pasture conditions averaged 77 percent of normal for Wisconsin compared with 54 percent a month earlier. The improvement in pastures is an important factor in the feed situation. Hay supplies are smaller than in 1943, but the quantity of new grain on farms is fully as large as a year ago.

The state has a record corn crop with the production of 115 million bushels exceeding the record crop of six percent. This increase in the corn crop is mainly a result of a larger acreage. Oat production in Wisconsin is also a record with over 118 million bushels harvested this year. The oat crop this year tops the 1943 production by nearly 18 per cent. Barley and rye production are substantially reduced from 1943, but wheat production is a little larger than last year and because of a substantial increase in acreage the state has a larger buckwheat crop.

Maid Locked Boss inCloset, Stole Purse

CHICAGO.—A maid is a maid in these days of wartime shortages. So when a woman applied to Mrs. Anne Gordon for work, she didn't bother about references. She told the police that the new maid locked her in a closet and left with her purse containing money and four ration books.

Father Subs forHis Son Overseas*Girl Says 'Yes' to Plea for Absent Suitor.

CHELSEA, MASS. — Proving there's no limit to what a father will do for a son, particularly when that son is fighting overseas for his country, Edward Jankowiak dutifully purchased a diamond engagement ring, knelt before the pretty blonde daughter of a neighbor and proposed marriage to her in the name of his son.

The girl, 19-year-old Helen Szymanski of 143 Park street, said "yes" but there were tears in her eyes and her thoughts were thousands of miles away with Corp. Stanley Jankowiak, 23, whom she hasn't seen for more than a year.

All this was the result of a letter Corp. Jankowiak wrote his father. It contained explicit instructions, even to the size and weight of the diamond in the ring, and the money with which to buy it. Both families were to attend the proposal ceremony, and the father was directed to kneel before the girl in his most ardent manner.

"And don't forget to say it's Stanley who's proposing," he warned. The father went his son one better by arranging the ceremony for Helen's 19th birthday, when she was given a surprise party at the home of her sister, Mrs. Genevieve Dombrowski.

The young couple have been sweethearts since they both attended Chelsea high school. Corp. Jankowiak is in a medical unit which was last heard from in England.

Deer, Notorious SlayerOf Live Stock, Is Slain

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Old Hook, the buck mule deer long hated by farmers because of his murderous attacks on live stock during the years he roamed the countryside, died recently at the hands of his best friend, Zoo Director William T. A. Cully.

Barns and fences were not made for Old Hook, said Cully, explaining that the animal had gone berserk and actually was killing himself.

After Cully had brought him down with a high caliber rifle shot it was found that Old Hook had broken his own jaw in four places and opened deep gashes on his body in leaps which didn't quite clear high barbed wire fences and zoo corrals.

For three hours he sailed over fences—one of them 10 feet high—before his strength ebbed and he began cutting himself on the top strands of wire.

Farmers, angered by finding gashed or dead cows after the zoo fugitive's visits, long had been gunning for Old Hook before Cully recaptured the 10 point deer several weeks ago. Five .22 caliber bullets and large numbers of shotgun pellets were found in and under his hide. Farmers had put them there.

Japanese Deserter LivesHunted Life in Sweden

LONDON.—Prof. S. Sakimura, reportedly the first Japanese diplomat to desert to the Allies since Pearl Harbor, is living the life of a lonely, frightened fugitive in Stockholm, the Daily Mail said. The Mail, publishing an interview with Professor Sakimura, said he lives in constant fear of the Japanese Black Dragon society and the Nazi Gestapo.

At the end of 1943, Professor Sakimura, industrial expert in the Japanese embassy in Berlin, became convinced that neither Japan nor Germany could win, the newspaper said.

He had joined the embassy staff in 1941 as leading expert on the Japanese commission charged with working out German-Japanese trade harmony after the war. His work gave him close insight into the strength and weakness of German war industry.

It is this information which his Japanese and German pursuers are determined he shall not reveal. He broke with Japan openly this year and fled to Sweden. He has been forced to take innumerable precautions against assassination.

'Painter' Is Accused ofLooting 50 Households

PHILADELPHIA.—It's so hard to get a painter nowadays that householders were delighted when George Kelly, 26, answered their want ads. They weren't so pleased after he left, according to Detectives Glasgow Driscoll and Eugene Brenizer, who charged Kelly had looted 50 homes and stores of more than $20,000.

The detectives said they'd been answering want ads for painters themselves, confident they'd run into Kelly. They did next day.
